

Bands and Seller

Not bound to a contract with us!

Once you're part of punk.de you are not bound to a contract! This means: You are free, you can sell your stuff anywhere else too as well. Punk.de does not own any of your rights - we are just here to promote and to distribute your stuff - and all of that only with a commission. You can even start up contracts with other labels, merchandise companies, agencies, music publishers etc. without interfering with your punk.de shop. This shouldn't be a problem for most of these companies but make sure that to state that in your contract with them!
