

Shipping: How fast will I receive the things I ordered?

We usually sent the items out as soon as we confirmed the payment. Of course this could only occur if we have all the items in stock and receive an item that has been out of stock from a seller. In case of a re-stock problem (let's say it will take a really long time until we get an item again) we will refund the money, sent the item out without charging shipping fees, or you have the option to contact us under our telefon number and order a replacement item.
